Gibson Names Seven To 'Advisory Board'

An advisory committee composed of seven active Harbor City civic workers today was named by Councilman John S. Gibson, 15th district representative.

One of the prime planks of his election platform, the organization will serve the councilman in investigating special problems and deciding which shall be given priority. The seven members are:

Mrs. Frances Hencel, 25108 Normandie avenue; Charles E. King, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Albert Beckman, 1802 Rolling Knolls drive; Wesley E. Dana, 1529 W. 261st street; Edward Killingstad, 25423 Noble avenue; Ray Martinez, 1111 W. 258th street; J.A. Moore, 1270 W. Pacific Coast Highway; and Santiago Carreras, 1131 W. 256th street.

Election of a chairman for the new group will take place at the first meeting on Aug. 2 at the home of Mrs. Hencel. Committees to function within the organization also will be formed.

Regular meetings will be held on the third Thursday of each month. Mrs. Hencel's residence is the temporary meeting place.

Book Reading Club Popular

The Book Parade Reading Club, started at the Torrance Public Library earlier this summer, is proving a popular meeting place for the young set of the city each Tuesday afternoon, according to Mrs. Dorothy H. Jamison, club librarian.

Meeting the children each Tuesday afternoon at 2 to read to them is Mrs. Marshall Loftus, who conducted a story hour for the library before her marriage several years ago. Now the mother of two young children, Mrs. Loftus has returned to her story-telling duties at the library.

The Book Parade Reading Club, which is conducted in conjunction with the Los Angeles County Public Library program, is open to children between the ages of four and ten.
